FINANCIAL MANAGEMENT AND INVESTOR EDUCATION

Financial management is the business function concerned with profitability, expenses, cash and credit, so that the "organization may have the means to carry out its objective as satisfactorily as possible;" the latter often defined as maximizing the value of the firm for stockholders.

Investor education focuses on issues relevant to the education and information needs of individuals who participate, or are considering participating, in the financial markets. In addition, investor education can also help investors better assess the relevance and suitability of investment advice
