GUEST LECTURES HELD IN DSPRS

1. How To Make A CV

A guest lecture by Shri Gurinder Ghotra, GMAT-Academic Head, TIME Education Pvt. Ltd., on "Making Curriculum Vitae" was delivered on February 7th, 2017, for the students of B.Com (H) IInd semester.

He initiated his lecture session with a general overview of how the HR department of a company sees a CV. There are a lot of applicants but the number of vacancies is very low and they review the applications only in a matter of 7 seconds. That is the only time to grasp his/her attention. Moreover, if the CV is of more pages, the concerned person does not read it. So it must be of one page. Our CV reflects our individuality, so we have to make it the way we want to represent ourselves to get selected. He also advised on the importance of the covering letter.

A CV can be written in an effective manner by ensuring the following:

Firstly, name, mobile number, and email. Email can be a reason of opportunity to lose or win. If it is like coolboy17@xyz.com then it is a threat, you can lose, but if it looks official and meaningful it can be a plus point like abhishekdanial@xyz.com. But such email id's are not easy to get hold of so one can start adding numbers to them. And instead of using just numbers, one can use dates which are important to us, like the date of joining the college or any of your achievement. Address is not mandatory because much of the communication is through email.

2. Shaping the Career: A Holistic Perspective

The present generation is muddled about the career they wish to pursue and their ambition in life. Thus a lecture was conducted on "Shaping the Career: A Holistic Perspective". Shri Subhash Jatoga, CEO, Global Business Solutions gave the guest lecture on February 14th, 2017 to IVth semester students of BBA. He started his lecture by emphasizing on the importance of having a career goal and a career path in a right direction. His main focus was to generate awareness amongst the students about various opportunities available in the corporate sector and to guide them on realistic career path. He further highlighted that career choice is not only shaped by their skills and economic factors, but also by their perception of host environment and practical challenges.

3. Workshop on "How to Crack Exam for Government Jobs"

A workshop was conducted by Mr. Amit and Mr. Avneesh, Faculty head of Time Education Pvt. Ltd. on "Tips to crack Government Exams" on February 21st, 2017 for the VIth semester students of BBA.
