EDUCATIONAL EXCURSION TO YAMUNA BIODIVERSITY PARK

An educational excursion was organized on the 12th of April, 2017 (Thursday), by Delhi School of Professional Studies and Research (DSPSR), to Yamuna Biodiversity Park, Wazirabad Village, for the 4th semester students of B.Com. (H), as a part of the project for the subject of Environment Management.

Emerging as the capital's most visited public place and prominent center for learning and understanding the environment, the Yamuna Biodiversity Park has become a home for biologically rich wetlands, grassland communities, a wide variety of fruit yielding species and an abundance of medicinal herbs. The Park also comprises a native flora and fauna which used to exist 100 years ago and then became extinct locally. It further, acts as a natural conservation site for specific group of endangered plants. The Yamuna Biodiversity Park is presently spread over an area of approximately 457 acres near Wazirabad village on the flat alluvial plains of the Yamuna.

The main aim of the field visit was to make the students aware of the degrading condition of the environment, various conservation strategies and their important role in future in its maintenance. It was an adventurous and enlightening experience where the students got a chance to get themselves acquainted to the flora and fauna of the region, which is on the verge of extinction due to human interferences.

Mr. Manoj, the Nature Education Officer at Yamuna Biodiversity Park guided the students through a well-planned trail of the park throwing light on important zones of the park and the plants and animals inhabiting it.

Nubh Malhotra was adjudged as Mr. Farewell and Abha Jain was adjudged as Miss Farewell. Various other titles were also distributed to the students to enhance their level of exhilaration. The level of energy and excitement among the students on the dance floor was overwhelming. The program concluded with a lunch party for the students and faculty members.

INTERNATIONAL YOGA DAY

Yoga boosts mental and physical health and improves the overall well-being of a person. The United Nations had declared June 21st as the International Day of Yoga in 2015, and it has disseminated awareness about the spiritual discipline among people all across the globe.

DSPSR celebrated the Third International Day of Yoga in its premises with enthusiasm and zeal on 21st June 2018. In the morning students, teaching and non-teaching staff of DSPSR congregated in the Seminar hall to celebrate the Third

International Day of Yoga. The relevance and benefits of yoga in day to day activities were discussed at the start of the session. The participants were then taught 'pranayam' techniques and their impact on mind, body and emotions. The event not only enriched the mind of participants but also made them realize the richness of heritage of India which has offered such a treasure of yoga to the whole world.

SOMEDAY, SOMEHOW...

Someday, somehow when sometimes we close our eyes
 There are a few things that we realize
 We realize that there are few angels around us
 The angels that God sent for us, angels that support us in all the troubles
 Angels who hold us whenever our feet stumbles

Whenever situations are against me, these angels make me strong
 They understand me when things go wrong
 Someday, somehow when I look at my life
 When I look at this world, the rain, the clouds and the sky
 I do feel that this world is so beautiful due to their existence
 I can see these angels in my family and friends

Someday, somehow when we try to calculate
 What we have earned so far in life
 We realize that we have earned the love and care of these angels
 Which is far more precious than anything else in life

When I look at these angels I do feel that Although I don't have everything I want
 But they are for sure the best gift for me
 It is due to these angels that I can cross all hurdles happily

When I was thinking how can I deserve somebody so sweet
 I wondered this life is full of surprises
 The same person can become your biggest support, whom you never knew
 And that is why you both meet.

Someday, somehow when we walk through a street in the night
 Some moments suddenly come to the mind and make us smile
 For sure, without these angels, life would have been futile.
